

IAPMO RAFFLE

What do you mean this is not
UP TO CODE!!

Original Painting by Dennis Westgard

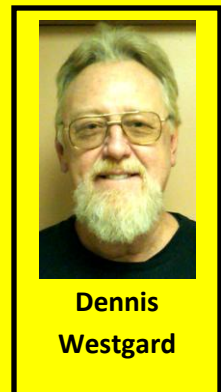

January 2011

Dennis Westgard, Roadrunner Plumbing, has been painting for over 40 years on wide variety mediums.

The piece shown above was made specifically for the IAPMO raffle tonight. Mr. Westgard tried to capture a plumber at work on a tricky and recalcitrant water closet in the Maori Islands. The Tiki plumber depicted on the right is in fact his boss Artie White. The laughing Tiki on the left is an island code official similar to Allen Becker.

The canvas is a wood cabinet door rescued from a recycling bin.

Work donated by the artist.
