

Justin Manning
President, Nevada Operations

Justin is also a Las Vegas native who began in the insurance industry in 1994. In 1999, Justin joined Mark Swarts; and, shortly after, he became a partner in the young company. Justin's exceptional work ethic and dedication have served as reinforcement to the values that started the agency.

Because of his knowledge and expertise within the construction industry, Justin has been sought out by some of the largest, most-respected contractors within the state for assistance with their insurance programs. His commitment to serving his clients has been vital to the growth of Swarts, Manning & Associates.

Justin is the general manager of day-to-day operations for the company where he strives to instill the same values in his employees as those that have made him so successful. He also currently serves as a director for the Nevada Independent Insurance Agents (NIIA), chairman of the Trusted Choice Committee, and chairman of the legislative committee.

Justin also loves to travel and does so as often as he can with his wife and two kids.
